SO BLUES
PROJECT

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Guitar virtuoso keeping the widest possible mind musically, he explores texts and musical forms to connect in the simplest ways with any audience, may it be in intimate spaces or grand outdoor festivals; Ever evolving Eric Triton performs his amazing universal blues overtone by a singular vocal roar and a strong humanistic discourse. ART SHALL PREVAIL!

MUSIC

Seasoned and playful, Eric Triton explores his natural playground alongside fellow Shakti Shane Ramchurn, soulful master of tabla, to maturely deliver a creative musical genre: Afroriental Blues.

EXTENDED PLAY

So blues is an EP comprising 5 original compositions where Eric Triton unveils his recent views on societal evolution in his island, the world and through himself. Endless driver of self assessment, the songwriter calls for social responsibility while exposing human nature's ups and downs in his narratives; his blues to sing all blues.

The music will be on sale
through 3 formats:

USB Key
Compact Disc (CD)
Vinyl

LAUNCH & TOUR: MAY 2018

The Ep will be launched in Mauritius, at which point Eric Triton will start touring locally, regionally and internationally (Mauritius, Reunion Island, South Africa, India, Europe)

MUSIC VIDEO

The eponymous song, So Blues, will develop into a music video through the joint effort of Stephane Bellerose, film-maker and Emilien Jubeau, artist.

THE BOOK; BIO AND PHOTOS

Literature and photography will support the project to a new dimension as a book will be published; text by Stephan Rezannah, photos by Jean Paul Mussoodee and design by Nicolas Bastien-Sylva.

THE DOCUMENTARY

Deeper in the comprehension of Eric Triton's mind through a filmed documentary highlighting key spaces in his life as an artist so to connect the historic dots of his amazing career. Exploring Indian Ocean, Africa, Asia, Europe and North America through Eric Triton's blues, the film is due Early 2019.
